About Charter Township of Comstock, Michigan

The Charter Township of Comstock is a community of 35 square miles in northeastern Kalamazoo County, which is located in the southwestern region of Michigan. Comstock Township, just east of the City of Kalamazoo, is served by highways I-94 and M-96, both bisecting the Township from east to west and running virtually parallel to each other separated by a distance of slightly more than one mile.

Economic growth has been fast-paced with a heavy concentration in auto stamping and parts, plastics, specialty and industrial machine shops, and service-oriented businesses. The area's many greenhouses have made Comstock Township the Bedding Plant Capital of the World. Its many lakes and streams provide excellent fishing and recreational activities. Morrow Lake is the dominant water body in the Township, encompassing approximately 1,065 acres of land.

A lifelong resident of the Township, Tim Hudson is the Township Supervisor of the Charter Township of Comstock. Tim's passion and commitment to the Township have been a driving force in developing the strategic vision for the Township and in establishing and aligning strong support for the development of Midlink Business Park from local, regional, and state business leaders.
