Hackman Capital Partners

Hackman Capital Partners' mission is to be the best in the world at redeveloping and repositioning complex industrial properties. Its passion is to transform and rebrand ailing and idled industrial sites into vibrant centers of business integrated into the fabric of the community.

Hackman Capital Partners, LLC is an asset-based investment firm that acts as a value-added provider of capital to owners, investors, and operators of industrial real estate and capital assets. The company has built a reputation for completing successful transactions by using a client-based approach to understanding the party's liquidity needs and offering creative investments that address these needs.

HCP has a long and successful track record as an investor and lender in transactions that are based on underlying industrial assets. The company has successfully invested in over 11 million square feet of industrial property and 150 equipment transactions. HCP has expertise in releasing, redeveloping, and repositioning industrial real estate properties. HCP also has unique experience maximizing the sale of capital equipment assets and the value of bundled asset purchases (e.g., capital equipment and real estate). The ability to understand both real estate and equipment asset investments gives HCP a unique position in the marketplace and enables it to successfully underwrite opportunities that do not qualify for traditional institutional capital.
